

Fire And Water

Buddy Miller

A man can walk - a million miles
And just be standing still
He can close his heart - and believe - he is strong

You were left - with a broken wing
In the arms - of the night - with nowhere to go

Standing out - out in the rain
Looking for - your way home
You walked on - on through the storm
Through fire and water - you have come

Like a storm carries a seed - away - upon the wind
When it falls to the ground - it brings life - back again

Now everything - you longed to see
You hold - in your own hands
And on the wings - of the wind - you ride high
