

hazy
just because sometimes you make me crazy just because sometimes you let me know I don't maybe today will show me the something that will phase me something that will move me besides dreams it seems seems like lately everything I see and hear makes me angry even what I say and do myself what else can I say I'm still waiting for this moment to be gone e million mile second a million thoughts in one high and wondering why so loud and bright I ain't got no idea what the hell is going on
