Hand of Blood

Bullet For My Valentine

There goes my valentine again Soaked in red for what she said And now she's gone

Oh, my God, have I done it again? There's a pulse and it's deafening I can't help what I hear in my head It's the switch that I flick when he says

Hand of blood, I don't wanna feel My heart is breaking Hand of blood, I don't wanna see My life is burning

I saw you look away Is what you've seen too much to take Or are you blind and seeing nothing? I saw you run, I saw you run away Is what I've done too much to take Or are you scared of being nothing?

There's a stain on my hand and it's red Oh, my God, am I losing it? I can't help what I've done or I've said It's the buttons I push when he says

Hand of blood, I don't wanna feel My heart is breaking Hand of blood, I don't wanna see My life is burning

I saw you look away Is what you've seen too much to take Or are you blind and seeing nothing? I saw you run, I saw you run away Is what I've done too much to take Or are you scared of being nothing?

I saw you look away Is what you've seen too much to take Or are you blind and seeing nothing? I saw you run, I saw you run away Is what I've done too much to take Or are you scared of being nothing?
