

I'm lost in a daydream
Faded blue
With faces and places
In a thousand shades of you
Every night since you've been gone
Found a reason to carry on and on and on...
Like a beacon's lonely light
You slipped right by me floating out of sight
Now you've found your happy home
Cuts me straight to the bone
You'll never be alone
(In your dreaming)
(In your scheming)
I'll be lying right beside you
(In the morning)
(Without warning)
They'll be my eyes you see
(In your crying)
(In your lying)
Someone's preying on your mind
Always be mine
With tears and a kiss we sealed our vow
We'd always be together but never quite knew how
Though lovers may drift apart
Without a finish
Without a start
You can't change what's in your heart
(In your dreaming)
(In your scheming)
I'll be lying right beside you
(In your morning)
(Without warning)
They'll be my eyes you see
(In your crying)
(In your lying)
I know I'll never hold you again
But our hearts will never let this end
(In your dreaming)
(In your scheming)
I'll be lying right beside you
(In the morning)
(Without warning)
They'll be my eyes you'll see
(When you're crying)
(When you're lying)
(In your dreaming)
(In your scheming)
(Every morning)
(Without warning)
(When you're crying)
(When you're lying)