

Misery

She's trying to break free
Caught her flying in and out of dreams

Misery

The sky turns tangerine
Take my hand and give your heart to me

Bring you to a silver sea
Let me kiss you sweet grenadine
You will know just how much you mean to me

Misery

I want you tenderly
Let me show you that you can believe me

Every whisper a melody
Every promise a symphony
Forever you'll be in every word I sing

Misery

Won't you marry me
I will spend a lifetime,
I will search the whole world, darlin',
To find the words that say just how much I love you
