

Throw It All Away

Burn Halo

Come close and you'll see every imperfection
Because my scars still bare a shame that I can't hide
Come close and you'll see I'm heading in the wrong direction
Always getting lost but I'm not hard to find
What if heaven could hear me screaming
What if heaven could hear me now

Lord knows I've tried to change
I sacrifice and keep falling everyday
I was taken every chance
I was living too fast
I was throwing it all away
And I threw it all away

Come close and you'll see it was never my intention
But I know I have wronged so many rights
Come close and you'll see that I fight to seek redemption
All the wounds will heal but I know it will take time
I know heaven can hear me screaming
I know heaven can hear me now

Lord knows I've tried to change
I sacrifice and keep falling everyday
I was taken every chance
I was living too fast
I was throwing it all away
And I threw it all away

Lord knows I've tried to change
I sacrifice and keep falling everyday
I was taken every chance
I was living too fast
I was throwing it all away
And I threw it all away
And I threw it all away
