

Bloodline

Bury Tomorrow

Welcome to the viper's nest.
Don't look into my eyes for comfort.
I'll make sure nothing's left.
You've never seen anything as evil.

I can see the strength within your eyes.
But I know you've got death upon your lips.
Feel the venom from our tongues.
It's sick.
I, the Demon!

I will show you how to lose control.
Rip through the mask reveal a face you've never known.
Take from you the time you stole.
All I'm owed, you must know.

Get up and show me what you think you've learned.
I can tell right now you've never been burned
Or ripped apart at the seams, I'll show you disease.

The serpent's scales don't weigh in your favour.
There's no forgiveness, there is no saviour.
Sentenced to the sickness.

I will show you how to lose control.
Rip through the mask reveal a face you've never known.
Take from you the time you stole.
All I'm owed, you must know.

Enemies of disease!
Enemies!
Enemies of disease!
Enemies!

So you think that you're a king amongst men?
Once removed of crown, you'll never rule again.

This is our bloodline.
Risen from the depth.
We have bled enough times, drained.
There's nothing left.

This is our bloodline.
We have bled enough times.
