

Mindchanger

Bush

Help me sometimes, I need that much
Don't you think it's strange
How we can turn to dust

Think it's strange, like really strained
We'll never run when we've got all these broken bones

It's so hard to let you go
It's so hard to let you go
I will make you change your mind
I will make you change your mind

I think of me sometimes, I'd never tell
Do you recognize me, think that you know me well
I think you're changing, configurating
Destroyed the lines that fed the goods to your heart

It's so hard to let you go
It's so hard to let you go
Run with the hunted (as you come)
Run with the hunted
I will make you change your mind
I will make you change your mind
It's so hard to let you go
It's so hard to let you go (run with the hunted)
As you come
I will make you change your mind
I will make you change your mind
