This Is The Sweetest Little Song

Butch Walker

I can only keep this feeling for a minute Can only stare at a polaroid so long Before the chromofilm blurs and the smiles On our faces are gone I crossed a line 5 yrs in the making That the biggest eraser cant clear And i'm rewinding everytime I whispered that in your ear As i laid on you And your naked body Looked just like i wanted it to And i wanna be the inspiration For your room going silent I wanna feel you erupt When i play your song I wanna move you to tears when i say "its over.. goodnight" And the rest of your life I get mad at myself for not acting myself I get jealous at the thought of you out I don't want you to think that its all that i'm Thinking about But goddamn i do And everytime that i hear someone laugh, It sounds just like you
