It's high noon when you step into the pit
It's a monster's ball and their digging a ditch
For the sunburnt the weary, the ones who won't last
In this cyclone of flesh with this cathartic mix

When the broken limbs are leading the match

When the broken limbs are leading the match It's the ring masters itch we're amassed to scratch With the crack of the whip the carnies rush in to devour The beast that beats on drums of flesh

Blistered embattled You fall to submission To complete the mission You rally and rise 2-3-4

Slack-jawed and entranced your torched by the sun You've caught the fever
The day's just begun to burn. Ya!

No you can't stop moving
No you can't stop moving
No you can't stop
This monster's ball

Brothers in arms we shake our devil sticks Together as we climb walls of jagged bones together As you float away on a bed a callused hands With the crest in sight now it's time to go

Over the edge, you take a decadent fall Behind the velvet rope you join the men on stilts The juggler winks and throws you a ball Before you know it you're part of it all
