

How Beautiful You Are

By The Tree

Perfect You, imperfect me
What could I bring to the One
Who's given me everything
All the wealth in this world
Could never fully reimburse
The Savior of the universe

All I want to tell You is
How beautiful You are
How beautiful You are

Holy You, unworthy me
I'll forever be in awe
Of the gift that You gave to me
Now when I take my last breath
I know I'll exhale at Your feet
And sing this to You in eternity

All I want to tell You is
How beautiful You are
How beautiful You are
Jesus
