

The Man In The Wood

BZN

Deep in the dark wood there lives an old man Beware of him they say He usely catches all young little girls And then he flies away

So don't go in there I warn you my friends Do always beware You
're never to blame

I had a girl-friend, she went in the wood And never she came ba ck Nobody saw him and nobody should Till there was me to search

I found him alone He told me to go I wouldn't do that Then he w ent away

Never since then there was somebody else Who went down in the w ood Nobody dares for the dangerous man Will catch you if you sh ould

So don't go in there I warn you my friends Do always beware You
're never to blame
