Baby I'm tired of thinking I was wrong I'm lost with no sign A game with no end

I've been there searching gold but suddenly
You played with my mind
Got words from behind

A promise is right babe I can believe in some No win by default in your life I'm lost when you're mindless

How can I fall down

Baby when your love is too far There's no strength in my heart No will leads to distance Can you feel it now Your love is too far I swear but again The silence between us I can feel it now - ooh yeah

Baby desire still relies on you Take a look at me now As it still lingers on

You let my feelings grow
But honestly
I'm through with your game
You can't always be right

A promise is sacred
I can believe in some
With you it's a million to one
I'm lost 'cuz you're mindless
But how can I fall down

Baby when your.....

Maybe in another life babe - I just want it good and real So you can beg, steal or lie babe - but you don't know when
