

Never Enough

Cady Groves

You need some time to breathe,
I need a chance to speak up.
I never was the type to believe in anything,
From anyone, oh.

But the trickery is fooling me,
I'm not the one.
Your memories, more than anything
I ever felt from anyone, oh.

Ohh,
You wanna go back home, but
Ohh,
That's exactly where you need to go.

I beg you, release me.
Go home, 'cause she's probably up waiting
You want me,
She's got the ring
She'd die if she found out about me.
Yeah, we had a good run
It was real love, but..
I'm never enough.

We've gotta separate,
Before I fuck up your life
'cause you've sure done some damage
To my head.
You shouldn't say the things you've said to me,
To anyone at any time, time.

'cause, ohh.
I'm keeping my mouth shut, but
Ohh,
I know it's a bitch, but..

I beg you, release me.
Go home, 'cause she's probably up waiting.
You want me,
She's got the ring.
She'd die if she found out about me
Yeah, we had a good run
It was real love, but..

It's never enough..

And I know, that you know,
What we know,
And that's all that's important,
So, promise you'll forget.
(go home)
I beg you.. release me.
She'd die if she found you here,
With me
