

Revenge

Cady Groves

How would you feel if you had been told
That your heart had been sold long before you had the Control would it pull you under?
Found my way to in existence where I called the shots
And nobody will manipulate me
Don't worry cuz I'm where I wanna be

If you lay awake at night and
Hope that we will reunite well
Don't hold your breath too tight no,
Cuz even though I'm surviving
I have opened up my eyes and
I see you clear as ice

Can you hear me now?
Are you in the crowd?
Cuz all I got from you was nothing to lose.
When I was broken down
You were walking out
So my happiness is the perfect revenge

Back when I was seven years old
Shutting up as I'm told
Looking for somebody to hold
Well now you can't deny that Every time I needed you most
You were busy running anywhere your body was pulled
And I was left for dying

If you lay awake at night and
Hope that we will reunite well
Don't hold your breath too tight no,
Cuz even though I'm surviving
I have opened up my eyes and
I see you clear as ice

Can you hear me now?
Are you in the crowd?
Cuz all I got from you was nothing to lose.
When I was broken down
You were walking out
So my happiness is the perfect revenge

Though my scars may look old they still open when
They're pulled
Though my tears may have dried doesn't mean that they Weren't cried
They were cried
Though my scars may look old they still open when
They're pulled
Though my tears may have dried doesn't mean that they Weren't cried
They were cried
They were cried
They were cried
Cried
Cried

Cried

An you hear me now?

Are you in the crowd?

Cuz all I got from you was nothing to lose..

Can you hear me now?

Are you in the crowd?

Cuz all I got from you was nothing to lose.

When I was broken down

You were walking out

So my happiness is the perfect revenge.
