

Tale Untold

Cain's Offering

Share a tale with me
Our days that would come
And all that was meant to be
Down the isle you would walk to meet me

Your snow-white veil was stained in red
On the eve of our love
The first day of rest of our lives
Now gone forever and ever
Only the lonely keep hanging on to the dream

I'll keep your memories safe with me
We are unfinished symphony
But cruel twist of faith

I made mistakes, one too many
Grant me hope if you've got any
Burn away the hurt that haunts me
Let me feel alive
In silence reunite

Save a smile for me
After all that went wrong
And all that has come to be
Our little pieces of a broken china

So, let the days come, let the days go
Fade away, hide away
Our every little lie, every little crime
Every bit of memory, melody, silently they come to me

I'll keep your memories safe with me
We are unfinished symphony
But cruel twist of faith

I made mistakes, one too many
Grant me hope if you've got any
Burn away the hurt that haunts me
Let me feel alive
In silence reunite

The song of the sirens still calling
And my eyes are still open wide
If I lose you tonight, tell me,
Have I then lost you forever?

Darling, save me a seat from your chamber
Raise your hammer and forge me anew
You're my virgin undone
I'm the crestfallen one
And I need you

I'll keep your memories safe with me

No more mistakes, not a single one
Just one more thing remains to be done
One love has joined together
Has now got put asunder

For better, for worse
For richer, for poorer
In sickness, in health
To love and to cherish
Let God do us apart
