

Vampires Don't Exist

Calabrese

Standing in the darkness
Smoking cigarettes
Looking through your window,
Waiting and watching

When I woke up from the death,
I was dug 6 feet under the earth in a casket
Screaming.

Remember this, that vampires don't exist
It was only a kiss,
It was only a kiss

When they come before you
When you're fast asleep
We guarantee you that it's only
And just a dream then you will know
When your hearts in your throat you will choke
It's not real

Remember this, that vampires don't exist
It was only a kiss,
It was only a kiss

Remember this, that vampires don't exist
It was only a kiss,
It was only a kiss
