

Finding My Way

callahan

We talk slow to pace our fingers
Lips catch a taste that lingers
We've both been down this road

It's lights-out, the picture's dim
With guards down, love slips in Vulnerable, and it shows

These days and these nights grow colder
Seasons change and we grow older, I know
All I'm wanting is you, all I need is you
If you want me like I want you
Say you need me like I need you and stay
I'm finding my way

Tongues tied by seatbelts and satellites
Keep me suspended all through the night
Too far to reach, but we try

So I dream under spotlights shimmering
That I'm home in the love that is you and me
And time flies by

These days and these nights grow colder
Seasons change and we grow older, I know
All I'm wanting is you, all I need is you
If you want me like I want you
Say you need me like I need you and stay
I'm finding my way

Back to your heart
Where I should have been from the start
Where you're lost in me and I'm lost in you
There's nothing this love can't do
When you're lost in me and I'm lost in you

These days and these nights grow colder
Seasons change and we grow older, I know
All I'm wanting is you, all I need is you
If you want me like I want you
Say you need me like I need you and stay
I'm finding my way
