

They Have Chosen

Callenish Circle

Leaving me nothing to believe in
Now I'm craving for silence
Never alone again
They have chosen me
Took away my life
Took away my pride
Sustaining echoes through the night
Forcing my decline
Whispers screaming from within
Same words over and over again
Lies becoming bitter reality
The mirror reflects a stranger's eye
Whispering feels like fire
Screaming feels like ice