

This Day You Regret

Callenish Circle

Suddenly, the sun at it's highest peak on my life's brightest day

I will never forget this day you regret

All I can do is turn my back

Never felt this empty inside

Arms open wide

But there's no place for me to hide

What were you thinking?

Can you think at all?

Can you bear the consequences?

Can you feel anything at all?

The truth or your lives

I don't know what is left to believe

I'll save myself once more

Don't you dare to reach out to me

Fooled yourself and brought me down

This pain is much too real

Do you see what you have done?

My wounds will never ever heal
