

You Were Late

Cam

Take this break and make it whole.
There's no need to get over you no need to let this all go.
Take this weight right off my tongue.
And hold it just there in your lap so you sit 'til I'm done.

Need you to hear me say
You were late, but you make this feel like home.
How can I hate where I belong?
No need to explain, 'cause your heart sings like my own.
So I'll stay until you're gone.

I know you feel that you're alone,
But that something inside of you, something that's keeping you down.
Take this heart and mend its sores.
'Cause I want us to go so much further than we've gone before.

Need you to hear me say
You were late, but you make this feel like home.
How can I hate where I belong?
No need to explain, 'cause your heart sings like my own.
So I'll stay until you're gone.

Is this love? We'll see when it's over.
Is this love? We'll see when it's over.

Need you to hear me say
You were late, but you make this feel like home.
How can I hate where I belong?
No need to explain, 'cause your heart sings like my own.
So I'll stay until you're gone.
