

A Heart's Desire

Camel

The light is fading
The cause invading
All the hopes that you
Were building on tomorrow
Now you must go.

So stretch your wings,
As nature sings
Her farewell lullaby
To soothe you through the changes
When you must go.

The gift is knowing
Your strength in going
When the time has gone beyond
Your heart's desire,
And you must go.
