Bitter Sweet

Camouflage

Bitter sweet, I need to know the way you feel, things have changed, but all the time I think of you, I'm longing for the things we did, with nowhere left to go, the distance's growing further still.

When I see you there I'm realizing, all the time we knew, we're sacreficing, our love.

Bitter sweet, I know it's time to face the truth, we have changed, but all the time I'll be with you, we're silent on the things we did, Intimacy has gone.

When I see you there I'm realizing, all the time we knew, we're sacreficing, our love.
