

These Eyes

Camouflage

These eyes are stones and hard like rock and darkness they are as blooming trees sever with strength and green the way they look at you will just reflect yourself again.

These eyes are different they change their colour into grey these smiles are faking they try to hide what's deep inside These eyes are seas that flow and foam in blue they are as blossoms soft wide open too and what they give to you is beauty just before they die.
