

Silent Bleeding

Cancerslug

And if I tied you a noose in the mourning would you swing for me and if I told you a new day was dawning would you pluck out your eyes and bleed for me or blow out your brains let the past slip away bleed for me silently

And if I bought you a new razor blade would you open your veins jump in the bathtub and plug up the drain the warmth of the water will block out the pain when you bleed for me
or blow out your brains let the past slip away
bleed for me silently

And if you killed yourself then you would save my precious time I dont love anybody else Im just trying to make up your mind so you will bleed for me
