

Blossom

Candlebox

Lights, they wash your face pale and misty white
Color flowers your eyes seem
Ever changing in my mind

Colors bleed to red as I kiss your face
Want to tell you I love you
Everyday as we grow

See I know now
Yes I know now it's all my own
And I know now

Can you feel my pain as you walk on by?
Will you tell me you need me
Every time, yeah all alone?

See I'll show you things never seen before
For your mind to untangle
On your own, no, all alone

Yes I know now
Yes I know now
It's all my own

Yes I know now
I'll watch as you go
Yes I know, it's alright

And I know now
Yes I know now, it's all on my own
As you blossom, yes, you blossom everyday

And I know now
Yes I know now, it's all my own
As you blossom everyday, everyday

Oh, I don't feel my arms are breaking up
I don't fear my eyes, they're turning red
I don't feel my arms are breaking up
I don't feel you slipping from my hands

And I know now
Yes I know now, it's all on my own
As you blossom everyday

And I know now
Yes I know now, it's all on my own
As you blossom everyday

Now I know
Yes I know now, it's all on my own
As you blossom everyday, everyday
