A Skeletal Domain

Cannibal Corpse

Trapped beneath rotting remains
A slow decay of life takes it's form

Withered death and bone emerge From cemeteries of the earth Replacing all that is known from this world

Towering structures take shape
As more cities are laid to waste

Survivors of this morbid fate
The reborn meek not live not dead
Are left to start a new
Misshapen and half mutated
Not a zombie not a human
Evil creatures grew

Not one thing left alive but them The strongest will begin to reign

A new society takes place Where the way of the cannibal Rules in this skeletal domain

A kingdom of the damned

Carnal war consuming them by Eating flesh for nourishment Solution for a short-term survival

Slaughtered are the weakest first Feeding those with evil thirst As blood of the dead saturates the ground

Again the end has begun Another kingdom will be damned

Survivors of this morbid fate
The reborn meek not live not dead

Misshapen and half mutated Not a zombie not a human Evil creatures grew

Not one thing left alive but them The strongest will begin to reign
