Condemned to Agony

Cannibal Corpse

Butchering the helpless Was his way of life Uncontrolled rage Internal strife

The pain he dealt out was never repaid Retribution was sought by the ones he had slain

Infernal phantasm
Condemned to agony
No escape after death
Condemned to agony

Heads of his victims Have returned to haunt Dripping with blood Rotted and gaunt

The pain is reflected to him after death With the victis of his knife, he is now beset

Reliving every crime Condemned to agony No escape from their hate Condemned to agony, agony

He thought he got away His crimes unpunished he took them to the grave Their tortured souls are waiting

Now they make him pay
Exact their revenge using methods that he used
To make him understand them

To chop him up
Is their revege
With no remorse
They slash him, disfigure

Undying hate
His torment endless
He's torn apart and they cut the pieces smaller

The knife he used to maim

Is turned against him and now they will do the same

Dissect the man of evil

His fingers are cut off
And forced into his mouth so that he cannot scream
And in pain they revel

To chop him up
Is their revege
With no remorse
They slash him, disfigure

Abomination

Their creation
The man who killed them is now scattered
In the abyss

Infernal phantasm
Condemned to agony
No escape after death
Condemned to agony
