

You've got this thing in your mind and it's all for the best
I've got this thing in mine and it starts from the chest beating

Force feeding lines meaning I'm out of time
Time was a thing that we thought was a thing that we had
I'm getting waist high, I'm half full, starting to flood
I don't want this thing to overflow

If you believe what's said in secret
Say yes to me when I ask you now

Do you want to dance tonight?
Do you want to cross the line?
Well I tripped and I fell and landed straight at your feet
From down here I'd say the line's looking blurry to none

Well blurry lines in my eyes make me willing to cross
But blurry minds make me feel uneasy
Heart warming, sweet talking reasons I'm over the line
Lying alone feels wrong but it's all for the best
It could be worse, we could both be lying
Even with miles of rope, I still wouldn't have a hope
If I started going down by the head

But you're a lifeboat, safe and stable
Let me in, a sail away for two

Do you want to dance tonight?
Do you want to cross the line?
Well I tripped and I fell and landed straight at your feet
From down here I'd say the line's looking blurry to none

If you believe what's said in secret
Say yes to me when I ask you now

Do you want to dance tonight?
Do you want to cross the line?
Well I tripped and I fell and landed straight at your feet
From down here I'd say the line's looking blurry to none

Do you want to dance tonight?
Do you want to cross the line?
Well I tripped and I fell and landed straight at your feet
From down here I'd say the line's looking blurry to none
