

This is more than a state of mind,
Is there something inside of me?
Breaking our misconceptions.
Yes, more than a state of mind,
Is there something inside of me?
Not content with just demanding. No!

You say you're sick and you're tired of me,
Your desire for acceptance is so ugly.
You say you're sick and you're tired of me,
To be so close minded, is so far from positive.

That's what you say
If you've never have to worry,
You only ever need to live for the day,
A privileged situation.
'Cause somebody told you
That you'd never have to worry,
That you'd only ever need to live for the day,
Despite everyone's situation.

Woah. "We're better off this way."
Woah. Of course that's what you'd say.
Woah. 'Cause you're better off this way.
Woah. Yeah.

This is more than a state of mind,
Yeah, there's something inside of me,
Breaking our misconceptions.
Yes, it's more than a state of mind,
Yeah, there's something inside of me,
Not content with just demanding. No!

You say you're sick and you're tired of me,
Your desire for acceptance is so ugly.
Oh, you say you're sick and you're tired of me,
To be so close minded, is so far from positive.

Sick of this desperate way,
Sick of this game that you play.
Sick of this desperate way.

And you say
That I've spent my life just throwing away
A privileged situation.
But nobody told me
That I'd never have to worry,
'Cause they knew that I would make my way
Through real life situations.

"We're better off this way."
Of course that's what you'd say.
'Cause you're better off this way.