

Droom Kleuren

Keith Caputo

im gonna get my guns and kill myself and everyone gonna see to it that your heart burns im gonna burn you down instead of burying you underground im gonna see to it that my friends fall so im gonna shoot your face im gonna buy and sell the human race hey mr. president, aint that worth something fighting for?

well im gonna load my guns and have myself a little fun gonna get cha back in return yes and we have gone a long, long way and i dont ever wanna see that pretty face again...

no use in wondering why man christmas makes this poor boy sigh some will laugh but most just sit and cry you can say whats on your mind but it wont change the god damn times come on babe, i see no release leave ya down here on your own i thought i was scared if you would go i thought my walls would come a crumbling down well im gonna get my gun and have myself a little fun gonna get you back in return

and i dont ever want to see that pretty face again.. and how long must you wait for that simple twist of fate

we had gone a long, long way such a long, long way
