

Dropping Out

Career Soldiers

This is the beginning of the end
I'm stepping out of line and starting over again
Days spent making things worse are no more
I'm dropping out of this fucked up world
Can't you see the difference between me and you?
I've got everything to gain, and nothing to lose
I've given up on this world, but not on myself
Will I live like you? No way in hell

I'm casting myself aside from this society
I am dropping out, and not taking part in this atrocity

Now is the time to set your past ablaze and leave it behind
I've got one shot, and wasting time is not what I have in mind

I don't want to be included or accepted
I'll survive on my own, alone and rejected
Maybe things will never change
But I'll die fighting, and I won't die ashamed
