

We Shall Meet Someday

Carl Smith

Have our hearts ache with grieve as we say goodbye we shall meet
t someday
Where no sorrow or tears ever dim the eyes we shall meet someda y
We shall meet where no storm clouds gather we shall meet someda
By the river of life sparkling cool and clear we shall meet som eday
When we all cross the stream with its rolling tide we shall mee t someday
In this city of rest on the other side we shall meet someday
We shall meet...
