

Baby Come Back Home

Carly Goodwin

Married you four years ago,
Now I'm a soldier's wife.
Knew one day, you'd have to go,
I miss you in my nights.

In seven weeks, our baby's due,
You're half-a-world away.
Know our country's needin' you,
But all I have to say is:

Baby, come back home,
I need you too.
Baby, come back home,
Honey, I love you.

Next door neighbour's son was there,
Fightin' the same war.
We just heard the news today:
He won't be home no more.

Freedom never has come free,
There's a price to pay.
Lord knows, I'm proud of you,
But I miss you more each day.

Baby, come back home,
I need you too.
Baby, come back home,
Honey, I love you.

Until you're back home, darlin',
And in my arms to stay,
I pray God watches over you,
Every minute you're away.

Baby, come back home,
I need you too.
Baby, come back home,
Honey, I love you.
Honey, I love you.
