Baby Come Back Home

Carly Goodwin

Married you four years ago, Now I'm a soldier's wife. Knew one day, you'd have to go, I miss you in my nights.

In seven weeks, our baby's due, You're half-a-world away. Know our country's needin' you, But all I have to say is:

Baby, come back home, I need you too.
Baby, come back home, Honey, I love you.

Next door neighbour's son was there, Fightin' the same war. We just heard the news today: He won't be home no more.

Freedom never has come free, There's a price to pay. Lord knows, I'm proud of you, But I miss you more each day.

Baby, come back home, I need you too.
Baby, come back home, Honey, I love you.

Until you're back home, darlin', And in my arms to stay, I pray God watches over you, Every minute you're away.

Baby, come back home, I need you too.
Baby, come back home, Honey, I love you.
Honey, I love you.
