

So Many Ways

Carole King

So many ways, so many ways
To show you love someone
So many ways, so many ways
To show someone you care

We have so much in common
Although we come from places worlds apart
When you reach out and touch my hand
Without a word you say I love you
You're beautiful, you are in my heart

So many ways, so many ways
To show you love someone
So many ways, oh, so many ways
To show someone you care

Since I've been spending all my time with you
You've taught me something new every day
And I just want to say
The music comes from you and me
And it's plain to see that we both know

So many ways, so many ways
To show you love someone
So many ways, oh, so many ways
To show someone you care
So many ways
