

Better Alone

Carolina Liar

Don't you hope
We can start again?
Endings are old
But they help you see

Can't quite believe
All of this and what it means
You've become so bitter

You think you're better alone
For the sake of your sanity
It won't hurt a soul
If you'd just learn to breathe again
You never had the nerve to begin with
You think you're better alone

Been here before
Seeking safety or something to blame
You feel so hollow
You could swear that you've grown

Weren't anything
As big as your dream
You've become so bitter

You think you're better alone
For the sake of your sanity
It won't hurt a soul
If you'd just learn to breathe again
You never had the nerve to begin with
You think you're better alone

Never had the nerve to begin with
Got to come to your senses

You think you're better alone
For the sake of your sanity
It won't hurt a soul
If you'd just learn to breathe again
You never had the nerve to begin with
You think you're better alone

You think you're better alone
It won't hurt a soul...