

Me And You

Carolina Liar

Christmas day you pretended like you didn't notice
Having drinks with what's-his-name?
New Year's Eve you pulled me away when the ball dropped
I turned my back but from that day...

It was me and you
Me and you
Baby ever since you crossed that room and messed me up
I know we knew it's me and you

Summertime two rows away at a home game
Was that smile meant for me?
And the crowd goes wild you turn and stare
I break inside just like that night
It's so obvious what we should do

'Cause it's me and you
Always me and you
Baby ever since you crossed that room and messed me up
I know we knew it's me and you

Anytime we let it show
We been fighting it off for so long
Baby we already know
Tell me why are we still holding off?
Why are we still holding off?

'Cause it's me and you
Always me and you
Baby ever since you crossed that room and messed me up
I know we knew it's me and you
Me and you
Baby ever since you crossed that room and messed me up
I know we knew it's me and you
Me and you
