

Happy Without You

Caroline's Spine

I remember thinking things would never change
The way it was, and how it was to remain
I haven't cried in a while
But I haven't forgotten the pain in my heart

And after so long you finally called
I remember thinking things would never change
The way it was, then how it was to be alone
I should have know better then

That I couldn't handle you on my own
'Cause I broke your heart
And even thought I'm glad you finally called
I'm never ever gonna go back

I'm happy here without you
I'm never ever gonna go back
I'm happy here without you
Still I remember thinking

Things would never change
The way it was, and how it was to remain
I haven't cried in a while
But I haven't forgotten your pain

'Cause I broke your heart
And even though I'm glad we finally talked
I'm never ever gonna go back
I'm happy here without you

I'm never ever gonna go back
I'm happy here without you
I remember thinking things would never change
