

She's Coming Home

Caroline's Spine

She said, "it happens all the time
Two people fall out on each other.
Its so hard to stay in line
We can't push this much farther."

She gave me a look and then she walked out the door.
She left me standing here all alone.
She said she wanted her life to be so much more.
I wonder when she's coming home.

So i sat here for hours waiting for her to phone
And to hear her crying and tell me she was wrong.

She gave me a look and then she walked out the door.
She left me standing here all alone.
She said she wanted her life to be so much more.
I wonder when she's coming home.

Well that was a long time ago
And i'm still waiting for her return
I heard the other day that she got married
I guess she'll never learn...

I remember the look as she walked out the door.
She left me standing here all alone.
She said she wanted her life to be so much more.
I wonder when my baby's coming home.

When is she coming home?
Is she coming back?
She's coming home