

Crybaby

Carolyn Dawn Johnson

Familiar, this sounds so familiar
You tell me I'm a drama queen
You act like you don't care
You look right past me like I was a ghost

Someone you don't even know
I don't know why I still love you
When all you do is make me

Cry, cry, cry baby
I don't know why, I think you're gonna save me
You just stand and watch my tears hit the floor
Like it doesn't even matter anymore

I don't really wanna leave tonight
But I don't wanna be your crybaby

Lonely, I can take being lonely
I've kinda gotten used to it
You treat me like you don't know me
Well maybe you never did
They say there's nothin' to it

Cry, cry, cry baby
I don't know why, I think you're gonna save me
You just stand and watch my tears hit the floor
Like it doesn't even matter anymore

I don't really wanna leave tonight
But I don't wanna be your crybaby

Someone's gotta do it
So I'm telling you goodbye
And all I wanna do is

Cry, cry, cry baby
I don't know why, I think you're gonna save me
You just stand and watch my tears hit the floor
Like it doesn't even matter anymore

I don't really wanna leave tonight
But I don't wanna be your crybaby

I don't really wanna leave tonight
And it rips me apart inside
But I'm not gonna be your crybaby
No I'm not gonna be your cry, crybaby

You just stand and watch my tears hit the floor
Like it doesn't even matter anymore
I don't really wanna leave tonight
But I don't wanna be your crybaby
