

I'll Think Of You That Way

Carolyn Dawn Johnson

There must be a reason
We first got together
There must have
Been a reason
We used to talk forever
It's hard to see now
'Cause it's easier to think
Of what went wrong
I could keep
Pointin' fingers
I could stay mad as hell
Just let my anger linger
But as far as I can tell
I've just got to let it go
If I wanna move on

So I'll think about
How you made me laugh
Not think about
How you made me cry
Think about
How we both swore
We'd love each other
Till we died
Forget about
Who's to blame
Just remember
Your smilin' face
Well it's a choice
I've had to make
So I'll think about you
That way

Hoah
Seems like
I paint you now
In colours of forgiveness
I lost the pain somehow
And in it's place
There is this
Part of me that sees you
In the light
I saw you in before

So I'll think about
How you made me laugh
Not think about
How you made me cry
Think about
How we both swore
We'd love each other
Till we died
Forget about
Who's to blame
Just remember
Your smilin' face
Well it's a choice

I've had to make
So I'll think of you
That way

Hey
So I'll think about
How you made me laugh
Not think about
How you made me cry
Think about
How we both swore
We'd love each other
Till we died
Forget about
Who's to blame

Just remember
Your smilin' face
Well it's a choice
I've had to make
(Choice I've had to make)
Well it's a choice
I've had to make
So I'll think of you
That way
Yeah I'll think of you
That way
I'll think of you
That way
