

Just About Anything

Carolyn Dawn Johnson

It's her prerogative to be extra sensitive
When her heart is backed up against a wall
She can justify every single reason why
She answers to the desperate call
Her careless spirit makes her fearless
She' walked fire for you

A woman will do (she'll do)
Just about anything
God forgive her (forgive her)
If she goes a little crazy
But you can't blame her
For what's not a choice anymore
Her emotions take control
No telling just how far she'll go
A woman will do (she'll do)
Just about anything

Her reckless tenderness
Will often get her in a mess
It's not so easy to clean up
It's a necessity she'll fire relentlessly for love
She's not perfect, but it's worth it
To thine own heart be true

A woman will do (she'll do)
Just about anything
God forgive her (forgive her)
If she goes a little crazy
But you can't blame her
For what's not a choice anymore
Her emotions take control
No telling just how far she'll go
A woman will do (she'll do)
Just about anything

A woman will do
Just about anything
God forgive her
If she goes a little crazy
You can't blame her
For what's not a choice anymore
Her emotions take control
No telling just how far she'll go
A woman will do (she'll do)
Just about anything
A woman will do (she'll do)
Just about anything
