

Let Me Introduce Myself

Carolyn Dawn Johnson

You might not remember me
But we've met before, kind of briefly
Back then I had longer hair
You came from out of nowhere

It might not have meant much to you
But to me, it meant everything
I know you meet a lot of people

So let me introduce myself to you again
It's probably obvious
I wanna be more than friends

I still believe in, you still believe in
Forever and ever, amen
Hello, love, let me introduce myself again

We'll go slow, take it easy
I'm kind of nervous, so believe me
I'm not in any kind of hurry
I've got lead boots on, don't you worry

I've been a skeptic so many times
But I want it to wait until it felt right
And now the birdies are singing so sweetly

Oh, let me introduce myself to you again
It's probably obvious
I wanna be more than friends

I still believe in, you still believe in
Forever and ever, amen
Hello, love, let me introduce myself again

I'm the girl whose heart
Was crushed and broken
I had locked it up
But now it's open

Let me introduce myself to you again
It's probably obvious
I wanna be more than friends

I still believe in, you still believe in
Forever and ever, amen
Hello, love, let me introduce myself again

It's probably obvious
I wanna be more than friends
Let me introduce myself to you again
Hello, my name is Carolyn

Nice to meet you again