

Tumble And Roll

Carolyn Dawn Johnson

The one I love is knocking at my door,
With the kind of look I never saw before.
He said: "Hey, baby, you and me.
"Nothin' like knowin' when it's time to leave."

Took a listen to his advice,
Thought about it once but I didn't think twice.
I packed my life in a paper sack,
Don't miss nothing that I never had.

This old car's our limousine,
Ridin' on hope, livin' on dreams.

Don't wanna know nothin' about readin' the map.
We're makin' it up as we go.
Final destination, "don't look back",
'Cos when you're shootin' the dice, you just tumble and roll.

If we ever get lost, we can use the stars.
Right now, we don't care where we are.
Spin them wheels, gonna get there yet.
Runnin' down the road of no regrets.

We got each other and that's enough.
Ain't we lucky, we got love?

Don't wanna know nothin' about readin' the map.
We're makin' it up as we go.
Final destination, "don't look back",
'Cos when you're shootin' the dice, you just tumble and roll.

Got each other and that's enough.
Ain't we lucky, we got love?

Don't wanna know nothin' about readin' the map.
We're makin' it up as we go.
Final destination, "don't look back",
'Cos when you're shootin' the dice.

Don't wanna know nothin' about readin' the map.
We're makin' it up as we go.
Final destination, "don't look back",
'Cos when you're shootin' the dice, you just tumble and roll.
