

You Are

Carolyn Dawn Johnson

The sunlight on my shoulders
The smile on my face
My secret weapon, my favorite place
The reason my heart skips a beat
The broom that sweeps me off my feet

A gentle inspiration
My weary soul's salvation
The half that makes me whole
The gravity that grounds me
The arms I want around me
Never letting go

I've lived
I've lived enough
To know what is
And what's not
You are-you are

All the love I want to make Every breath I want to take
The rush that's running down my spine
The touch that takes me every time

An innocent seduction
Oh I can't get enough and
I can't help but let it show
I lose all my composure
I'm totally exposed and
The reason I let go
Is

I've lived
I've lived enough
I know what is
And what's not
You are-you are

My every hope
My every dream
You are my everything

I've lived yeah
I've lived enough
I know what is
And what's not
You are-you are-you are

The sunlight on my shoulders
The smile on my face
My secret weapon
My favorite place
