

I hear too many voices condemning my choices
I hear the sound of my own will

You think you know
What's gonna happen here
But you can't control
When you're acting out of fear
I choked all my demons
I have scars to show
You think you know
You think you know

I've been wasting all my days away
Trying to make believe that you could stay
I know you hope I'll make my dreams come true
I hope you know that I still dream of you
Every time I close my eyes I see your face
I've got the words you say stuck on replay
You show me everything that I can be
That's why I need you here right next to me
You're everything I need
I just can't live without you
You're everything I see
I hope you know my love is true

I feel 21 questions I'll never have answers to
I feel so surreal

Our story is a tragedy
You gave away everything
I'm seeing scenes in my head
Reliving all that you said to me
Our story's a tragedy
I lie awake in my bed
Wonder if you remember me?
You gave away everything
I lie awake in my bed
Reliving scenes in my head
Get out of my head
