

Unconditionally

Carousel Kings

How come every time I speak you're always talking down on me?
Do I really wanna see what it is you've been hiding?
If you can listen up , I can open up to you
Tell you everything that I want to do with you
You could be my everything
I love you unconditionally

Hey girl, open up your mind
It's time to face the limelight
When I'm sitting next to you, that's when I feel alright
If you can lend me shoes, I would roam the earth with you
Forget everything, we would never have an issue
I could be your everything
I love you unconditionally

That night I already knew in the end it would be me and you
'Cause I found you standing there all alone
Then you looked up at me and we ran
Run with me until the end
