

A Thousand Suns

Cartel

I can hear the ancients, calling out
They're praying for patience
Shining down
But the light has faded, like the sun
And I'm persuaded
That nothing now can be done

Can't even hear them now
Their light is glowing dim
And I've been covering, covering ground
Crossing barriers between us now
And we wait

Can't even see them now
The aqua swing again
And I've been covering, covering ground
Crossing barriers that still surround
And we wait
A thousand suns
We wait for them
The fallen ones
Will wake again

A thousand suns,
We wait for them
The fallen ones
Will wake again
A thousand suns,
We wait for them
The fallen ones
Will wake again
A thousand suns,
We wait for them
The fallen ones
Will wake again

Put all emotions aside
No matter how hard you try
Take what is buried inside
You want it, you got it, goodbye
Put all emotions aside
No matter how hard you try
Take what is buried inside
You want it, you got it, goodbye.
