Cartel

Please don't mind what I'm trying to say 'cause I'm, I'm being honest

When I tell you that you

You're part of the reason I'm so set on the rest of my life

Being a part of you

You tell me what you think about being open,

About being honest with yourself

'Cause things will never be the same.

So I guess I'll see you, I'll see you around

I'm spinning while I'm falling down

Now you know why I'm begging you to stay

And don't waste time getting to the point, 'cause I'm, I'm patiently waiting

For your next phone call, your next excuse for losing sleep again

Tell me what you think about being open,

About being honest with yourself

'Cause things will never be the same

So I guess I'll see you, I'll see you around

I'm spinning while I'm falling down

Now you know why I'm begging you to stay

'Cause I can't stop it now

It's so amazing how

I know I can't, I could never walk away

How can we resolve this now

We let it go, and wonder how

This can never be the same

Can never be the same

So I guess I'll see you, I'll see you around

I'm spinning while I'm falling down

Now you know why I'm begging you, I'm begging!

'Cause I can't stop it now,

It's so amazing how,

I know I can't, I could never walk away.

Please don't mind what I'm trying to say, 'cause I'm, I'm being honest.
